

Ahmed AbdelAziz is a Solution Architect in the WW Solution Delivery Team. He is responsible for leading, modeling, and architecting IBM Rational solutions and deployments for clients to improve their end-to-end software delivery process as well as process governance. Ahmed has wide experience with software engineering methodologies and best practices, software development, infrastructure and networking. Prior to his current role, he has held many positions in IBM including consultancy, project management, and development positions as IBM AIX, IBM z/OS LE, and Linux globalization developer.